A new design element and minimally proportioned hand protector for your BMW. These Acerbis hand guards offer excellent weather protection for your hands and they feature improved temperature control: Wind, cold and rain are effectively restrained and conversely, your hands are shielded from heat in high temperatures.

These hand protectors are only connected at the end of the handlebars, essentially replacing the bar end weights. They look sharp and enhance not only your comfort level, but also your bike' s appearance.

The kit is supplied complete with left and right protectors, and also model specific attachment hardware. The hand protectors are very easy to install.

Please note the following:

Because they are only attached at one end, these hand guards should be considered protection from the weather elements and not necessarily optimal protection in a fall or impact situation.

These hand guards will not work with our ThrottleLock or any other similar “cruise control” device.
