

BELLY PAN

1041,00€

33570-001. A powerful finish for your K and one of the most outstanding modifications to come out of the PowerCup. The pan, with its aerodynamically crafted lateral air vents, doesn't just round off the R design to perfection: its sealed construction – as is common in racing bikes – also offers protection for the engine block very well from soiling. Thanks to form-fitted installation parts, the belly pan is quick and easy to install. Extremely light and strong carbon fibre hybrid material with a glossy rigid plastic protective coating that penetrates into the material and guarantees optimum protection. Simply swap it with the original. ABE approved. Also compatible with vehicles with centre stands.

SKU: 33570-001