Both the front hydraulic reservoirs are mounted in a fairly exposed position, and even a minor fall can cause expensive damage and maybe the premature end of a holiday trip...

After three of our own damaged reservoirs we designed these complex structured protectors which are mounted and supported through several strong mounting points.

In order to be able to absorb impacts, a relatively thick aluminum was used. Slots were machined in to lighten the parts and ensure that the end product is strong and also looks good. Can be used with or without fitted original hand protectors. Sold complete with fitting kit.

These guards are sold individually. For both sides, you' ll need to order one clutch reservoir guard and one brake reservoir guard.
