41460-000. DIN – right angle plug for BMW electric sockets Electric sockets are especially needed in the cold and dark time of the year – for the heated vest, warming soles or light-giving accessories. Therefore, our DIN – right angle plug is the perfect tool. It fits perfectly to the BMW series sockets and lets the cable discreetly disappear at a 90-degree angle. This is quite useful, especially when driving motorcycles from the 1100 and 1150 series, where the socket is placed right above the footrest, so that you can't use a normal plug. You can also easily screw a bipolar cable on the plug contacts of the right angle plug.
