These engine protection bars complement the classic lines of the R 1200 R perfectly and offer outstanding protection. The bars are designed to look like an integral part of the bike.

The facts:

- Even distribution of forces.
- Strong mounting points.
- Outstanding protection for the cylinder heads.
- Servicing possible without removal (oil change, valve clearance etc.).
- Strong steel tubes with durable powder coating or chrome plating.
- Does not compromise cornering clearance.
- Easy to install.
- Made in Germany

These engine protection bars fit all model years of the R1200 R.

On 2011 and later models, the oil cooler surround must be trimmed a bit to allow clearance for the front crossover strut. This is easy to do with good results
