Portable first aid kit. Conforms to DIN13167

First aid kit contained in a practical case that takes up little space, easily identifiable in the case or under the saddle thanks to the red colour that distinguishes it. Inside, there is everything you need in case of First Aid. In compliance with DIN13167 (the highway code of some countries requires it on board), this kit is useful in all those occasions when you move on the road, so even by car and bicycle, and should not be missing in the rucksack of those who practice sports and outdoor activities.
