The rear brake fluid reservoir is a functional part, but not necessarily a very nice one to look at.

Our solution is a nice looking Thermo formed ABS plastic cap that is simply pushed over the existing reservoir cover.

The black lid is covered and the whole assembly looks much better integrated with the rest of the bike. In addition the cap protects the reservoir from flying objects and dirt. Attachment is easy, the part is simply pushed over the top and secured with an internal Velcro-type pad.

Two color versions available, silver or titanium.

Note: For off-road use the cap is not a substitute for our “Rear Brake Reservoir Protector” It is possible to install both parts.
