41590-202. Protection of the swing arm and shock has fallen victim to the design red pencil. The effect is that water and dirt can freely penetrate into the works, with consequences that are costly and time-intensive to repair. This splash guard protects the shock, which is severely enough tested in use anyway, along with shock mounts, swing arm, collector pipes and rear of the gearbox. The amount of water whipped up onto the pillion passenger's feet/lower legs is permanently reduced. Seamless transition from the swing arm's intricately constructed retaining fixture to high-quality protection in the form of fibre-reinforced ABS plastic. Easy and secure mounting. The facts: Effective protection from whipped-up water and dirt. Sturdy and custom-fit construction. Easy and secure fitting. Made in Germany.
