We've sealed the rather unattractive hole on the swing arm attachment with milled and anodised covers so that even here no dirt can collect and the BMW is optically upgraded in a sustainable way.

The consistent implementation of our design initiatives, which we have developed exclusively for the new Boxer generation. A particular technological delicacy is the type of reinforcement: Through a specially designed headless screw an O ring is pressed against the bore hole that fixes the cover firmly in place.

Technologically this is the only sensible attachment. Thanks to manufacturer tolerances, attachment to the provided screw threads is not part of the equation, because the cover would sit decentralised in many vehicles.
