The facts:

Function

- Transparent design
- Maximum relief for the head, upper body and arms
- Significantly taller (about 80 mm) than the original windshield and also considerably wider (about 180 mm) in the lower area at the transition to the protectors
 - Thanks to a special production technique no edge protection is required, ensuring a perfectly clear view
 - Adjustable to almost all riders and riding habits.
- The aerodynamic airflow channel between the lower edge of the windshield and the cockpit creates a backflow which effectively dissipates, calms and deflects the airstream.
 - No water droplets on the visor in rainy conditions
- The windshield integrates perfectly into the overall layout, emphasises the contours and gives the GS an imposing appearance
 - Includes double-sided reinforcements
